Mr. G. W. Bray and his daughter, Dora, left Monday for their home in Arkansas, after spending the greater part of the summer with his son and daughter. Mr. Edney, George and Bill Bray and Mrs. Jay Reynolds.

Mrs. Charles Rodbourne is on the sick list.

If direct fusion is not made, arrangements by the Liberals not to put a candidate in the field may be resorted to. This is a report. The Mail has received from an authentic source. Leaders Melgham and King have come to no such terms and it is hardly likely a "going together" could be arranged in Bow River.

The Mail is informed that a Conservative convention will be held soon. Liberals are also anxiously awaiting word from headquarters.

Bassano is putting in a bid for both conventions. This town is at the centre of the riding. Good roads come in from every direction. There is ample accommodation and the town's claims should be considered.

CAN GET MAP FOR THE MERE ASKING

Owing to the rapidly approaching depletion of available Crown lands situated within a reasonable distance of a railway, attention is now being directed to the large extent of unoccupied and uncultivated land held by non-resident owners. As shown by statistics recently compiled by the Department of the Interior, a large part of these lands is available for purchase at reasonable prices.

The 1921 edition of the Southern Alberta Land Map, which is issued by the Department of the Interior, gives in colour scheme the location of the uncultivated lands that are offered for sale and also the remaining Crown Lands available for homesteading.

Neither is the material aspect of the training the only one sought here. To be a more efficient money-maker and a wealthier farmer is attractive, but a more economic housewife and a home-maker is good; but of greater value than either of these is a training which will produce a man or woman with a broader outlook on life, and a fuller realization of the responsibilities of citizenship.

The Department will supply upon application a list of unoccupied and uncultivated lands covering any particular district, containing the names of the owners, the acreage, price asked for the lands, nature of the soil, and acreage suitable for cultivation. Negotiations may then be carried on with the owner.

A copy of this map may be procured free of charge upon application to the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Mugsy McGraw's Giants Come Across Win Championship of Baseball World

The New York Giants won the baseball championship of the world by beating the Yankees in the seventh game of the series.

The last game was a pitcher's battle between Waite Hoyt, of the Yankees and Artie Nehf, of the Giants' crack southpaw. Nehf won 1-0.

The game on the previous day went to the Giants 3-1, when errors behind Carl Mays lost the game.

The Giants lost the three games with an infected arm. He hit one home run in the series.

McGraw's pitchers stood up better than Huggins' men.

Weaver Puts Elevator Plan Up to Farmers Convention

A. C. Weaver, who has been working industriously on a co-operative grain marketing plan for a good many months, will endeavor to gain the support of the Bow River U.F.A. political convention, to his scheme.

He has prepared a resolution calling for a vote by each local of the farmers organization in Alberta on the subject of co-operative elevators, and will endeavor to get action on it.

Mr. Weaver's plan is well known. In fact it has become famous because of the opposition the United Grain Growers Co. have put up against it. The rebating features of the Weaver plan has proven very obnoxious to the U.G.G.

The Duck Lake farmer wants the grain exchange operated as a public utility. He

Gleichen Agricultural School Activities

As the result of an act passed by the Provincial Legislature in 1919, establishing a "Board of Agricultural Education" three Schools of Agriculture were established in Alberta. By 1919 these three had proved so popular and had been so well filled by students attending, not only from the immediate locality of each, but from all parts of the province, that it was decided to erect three new schools which were to be ready for the students by the fall of 1920. The result of this decision was the new School of Agriculture at Gleichen, a second at Raymond and a third at Youngstown.

The Gleichen School of Agriculture opens for its second year of instruction on October 27, 1921. The lectures continue until March 31, 1922, with the exception of a ten-day holiday over Christmas and New Year's day.

The schools of agriculture have been established especially to reach the farm boys and girls, and so train them that they will be better fitted for their life work—that of agriculture in the case of the boys, and of home building and Economics in the case of the girls. It is required that those students entering the schools that they should be over sixteen years of age, and that they should be willing and able to profit by the work they undertake while in the school. Beyond this no special admittance is required and no entrance examination need be passed. It is the purpose of the schools to reach out to all farmers' sons and daughters and to the farmers themselves, placing at their disposal a course which is entirely free, and which is better than any other available.

Neither is the material aspect of the training the only one sought here. To be a more efficient money-maker and a wealthier farmer is attractive, but a more economic housewife and a home-maker is good; but of greater value than either of these is a training which will produce a man or woman with a broader outlook on life, and a fuller realization of the responsibilities of citizenship.

later. At present it will be sufficient to state that the course in Agriculture includes studies of such subjects as Field Husbandry, Soil, Irrigation, Animal Husbandry, Farm Mechanics, Gas Engines, Electricity, English and Mathematics, while the Home Economics Course deals in Cooking, Sewing and Laundry work. Home Nursing, Household Administration and Sanitation, English and Mathematics. Trained instructors deal with their own subjects at each of the schools and time is spent at both practical and theoretical work in each of these subjects. In addition to their studies, the students form organizations of their own for athletics, debates, social functions, orchestral entertainments and so forth.

However the value of the Schools of Agriculture does not lie in such work and training as has been mentioned above. Each school has been attached to it an experimental farm, the problems of soils, crops and of feeding stock, conducted for the purpose of determining the best methods to use under certain conditions.

The advantage of our own system of Agricultural Education over the systems prevalent in other places may now be briefly discussed. To be briefly discussed, the other provinces of the Dominion, and the United States, with but very few exceptions, differ from Alberta in the modes of Agricultural Education in that they have established central institutions for each province or state. At present, central institutions in Alberta, and work of an investigation nature is carried out. The advantages of our own methods, as compared with these may easily be seen. In the main they are:

1. With our Alberta system the Schools are taken closer to each individual farmer, and the farmer has a shorter distance to travel so that the expense in connection with their training is materially reduced.

2. The Schools, operating as smaller units, catering to smaller areas, thus placing themselves in a better position for more intimate study of the problems peculiar to their own respective localities and are able to get into closer and

ON WINNIPEG MARKET WHEAT IS UNCHANGED

Winnipeg, Oct. 13—With a better demand and the report that farmers are selling less country elevators, the local wheat market held up remarkably well in view of the heavy inspections and receipts in sight. There was a fair export enquiry, and some demand from Canadian and American mills. Wheat closed unchanged to 2-4c lower.

Coarse grains were following and with the exception of May oats, which closed 1-8c up, all months were on the down grade.

There were liberal offerings and a better demand, especially for No. 1 Northern on the cash wheat market; No 1 Northern was 1-4c lower on a premium of 1-2c.

THE HEIGHTS

We had climbed the heights in the Rockies. The mountain was high and the road rough. But there was the view, a magnificent panorama of granite peaks, while down in the valley the charming village of Banff was discernible. Here and there a passing cloud displayed a shimmering silhouette.

Ah, the heights are glorious, but it's the getting there that is the tough part.

From newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railway to the greatest inventor of the age—Edison's man; from a school teacher in the backwoods to the greatest railway builder and financier of a continent—William Mackenzie's the personage; from a farm home and the job of a school teacher and afterwards a local lawyer to premier of Canada—Arthur Meighen.

It's hard to rise, the mob seems so heartless, the way so long. The men who are great seem fortunate. The fates seem to have conspired for them. Everything seems to have come their way.

Don't you believe it? Dogged perseverance put them where they are. The man who never lets go is the man who wins, the one who refuses to acknowledge final defeat.

Hang on. You are much more than a yellow leaf that falls in the autumn breezes. You are mainly master of your fate.

We falter. We make tremendous errors. Who has not for the man who never errs never does anything worth while, and is mighty soon forgotten when he dies. Hang on. Don't let life's little things annoy you.

This is the day of large events and large ideas. Come out from the crowd and be a large man. We expect a good deal from you. Hang on!

Are you all in but your shoes lace? What odds? Keep going. Some of life's greatest successes have come out of the most stinging defeats. Hang on.

Are you sore on your job or your prospects? Hang on, it can't always be bad. Never forget the glad tomorrow. You're sick, discouraged and in despair. Why you'll come out a new man. Don't be a quitter.

Old man, the battle's pretty tough sometimes. Our best friends deceive us—our finest plans miscarry. But stick to it. You think your life is very tough. That's exactly what the man next door thinks. You think misfortune has given you a black eye. Again, the fellow next door thinks the same. Your work is hard and the pay small. Once more let me remind you of our friend next door.

Today, my friend, if things seem bleak, times seem hard and fate bucks you on every side, brace up and look for a brighter tomorrow, for the turn of the lane when your sun will shine again.

GOODWILL

When you walk past the first newsway in order to buy of another a block away—you give an example of the value of good will.

When you note is renewed without debate you are enjoying the credit advantage arising from your asset, good will.

When someone insists that a dealer supply your product as named, that is good will.

When reputation carries a man far in the front of the general line—good will has been one of the forces at work in his brain.

In all our human relationship there is an existence an invisible and intangible radiation, a heart wave or a brain thought or conviction which is called Good Will.

Endless it is in its ramifications and multiplicities, the first few links, truly forged, are added to link by link in an endless chain. The growth goes on without end as long as hammer and anvil continue to ring with the sound of honest work, reputation and endeavor.

What is it worth?

A man in the United States is the unfortunate name of Trotsky had it changed to Travis. We hope this is no reflection on Bassano's worthy postmaster.

The rink is to be heated and dance will be held for a few weeks to come.

Latham

A whist drive was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bennett last Saturday night. A nice little crowd turned out and everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Miss Nelson won first prize, a book entitled "Heart of The Sunset", by Rex Beach.

Miss Violet Bennett won the book prize, a kazoo.

After the drive everybody fell in line and did justice to a big banana split, that would have made an ice-cream parlor look sick. Sandwiches and cake also coffee was served but the ice cream! We hope they'll give another soon, at least another real feed of ice-cream.

Fred rendered "Turkey in the Strain" on a doohickey that's a cross between a mouth organ and an accordion. Miss Nelson kept time with the book prize. After a little music we broke up and hit the trail for home.

Miss Frances Lee was a visitor of Miss Violet Bennett's on Saturday last. She took in the good time there Saturday night and amused herself by playing "Oh Helen" on the phonograph.

John Haselton and wife have gone to Casuels for a week. John has taken a contract to play on "Mr. Bain's" land down there.

MARKETS

Reports of good rains which insure a big crop in the Argentine, together with favorable reports from European countries has caused a great break in the market in Canada. It also looks like a long time before it will recover. We find the U. S. has already imported 97,000,000 bushels or one-half of her surplus.

COLLECTING B. C. CONES
A large force of men have been engaged to collect fir and hemlock cones in the vicinity of Fort Coquitlam. After the cones have been gathered and delivered to the rangers, they are to be shipped to Westminster, where the seed will be extracted for export to the British Isles, to be used in a big reforesting scheme there.

GRAIN IN NORTH
The Northland's bid for fame is not based on oil alone. The grain yield this year is exceptional. Tomatoes and cucumbers have grown in profusion and to excessive proportions.
Cabbages four and a half feet in circumference are not uncommon and potatoes twenty inches long and weighing more than two pounds are encountered.

fruit inspector, who has just returned from inspecting the fruit quarantine stations along the border.

LIVESTOCK SALE
One of the largest sales of pure bred livestock in Northern Alberta took place recently when the Hon. V. W. Smith Minister of Railways, disposed of his herd at Camrose Klekum Ranch Co. of Sexsmith, Alberta, for $25,000. 150
head of cattle were bought, all being of the "Fairfax" Hereford breed.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS NOTED IN CALGARY
Improvement in business conditions is reflected in the increased number of building permits being issued in Calgary. During the past week permits have been taken out to the value of $60,000 and indications are for a busy fall season in the building trade.
Work is being resumed on the five million dollar plant of the Alberta Flour Mills which will be rushed to completion.

SASKATCHEWAN YIELD
Regina—On a seeded acreage of 10,363,000 acres, the wheat yield of Saskatchewan
this year is estimated by A.E.
Wilson, Dominion Grain Commissioner, to be fourteen bus-per acre, making 145,082,000 bushels. Following an investigation of the crops in Alberta made within the past two weeks at the request of the government Mr. Wilson placed the aggregate wheat yield for that province at 45,000, 000 bushels.

Buy an Irrigated Farm

From the Canadian Pacific Railway

BECAUSE—
You can buy land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $50 PER ACRE with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $3,000 for improvements (6 p.c. interest); no principal after first payment until end of fourth year, reduced interest if settlement conditions are complied with, and no water rental for first year.
Contract can be paid off before maturity if desired.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodder, which insures good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlements, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the years that it has been tried out having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record.

For full particulars apply to

Allen Cameron, General Supt. of Lands

Canadian Pacific Railway, Department of Natural Resources

926 First Street East, Calgary, Alberta.

8. In the matter of actual experimental work it is evident that in a province such as ours where area is so great, and where conditions of soil, climate and even of the marketing of farm produce are so varied that with each school operating as an experimental station for its own comparatively restricted locality, problems of crop production and soil tillage may be worked out, and information obtained which is directly applicable to the immediate locality in which the school is situated.

Details of Studies
The course in Agriculture which has been devised especially for farmers and farmers' sons over the age of sixteen, but which is open to any of that age who wish to take the course, includes the following subjects:

Field Husbandry, Irrigation, Animal Husbandry, Veterinary Science, Farm Mechanics, Poultry Dairying, Horticulture, Farm Management and Book-keeping, Chemistry, Physics, Botany, Entomology, Bacteriology, Soils, English, Mathematics, Civics.

Some of these subjects are studied only during the second year, of the course, e. g. bacteriology, soils and civics, but in general the second year studies differ from those of the first year in that more advanced work is taken up by the student in every case.

As the name would indicate, the lectures given in Field Husbandry deal with soil cultivation, cereal crops, a study of varieties and their suitability under Alberta conditions, seed selection, rates, dates and methods of seeding, harvesting operation, and the marketing of the crop. Considerable time is devoted to forage crops, weed control, seed selection, rotation of crops and fungus and insect enemies of crops. Two afternoon periods a week throughout the term are spent at laboratory work, in which the student himself examines and judges the seeds and the plants of the various cereal and forage crops.

The Irrigation course will receive especial emphasis due to the fact that the territory from which the Gleichen School of Agriculture draws students is very largely irrigated. The methods of water application, the relation of irrigation to weeds, to soil drifting, to alkali, to insect control and a permanent agriculture will all be dealt with. The phase of the work will appeal especially to prospective students who are engaged in farming in the Brooks, Bassano, Patricia, Duchess, Gleichen, Strathmore and Vauxhall districts—in fact any who are confronted with the problems of irrigation.

In Animal Husbandry the necessity of livestock in a permanent system of Agriculture is dealt with. The different types of horses, cattle, sheep and swine are studied in turn. Classes of these animals are judged by the students, after which their placing is carefully discussed by the instructor. In the second year, the value of livestock are considered, as also the principles underlying the development and building up of a successful herd, and the principles of feeding and the composition of feeds.

The classes in Veterinary Science include a study of the animal body, physiology, the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of common ailments, medical remedies, simple surgery, etc.
